

THE FIFTIES: A JOURNEY DOWN MEMORY LANE WITH WILEY, ROB, AND FRANK (160)

Wednesdays, 1:00 – 2:30, Room 30 (6 Classes 10/12 to 11/16)	Tuition $35	Walk-in $10
Pay prior to the class in the Center 4Life Learning office.

For those who are old enough, this review and discussion course of the 1950s will trigger many memories – the Korean War or Conflict or Police Action, political events, music, movies and much more—from 60 to 70 years ago. For those who aren't old enough, it will be a lesson in fairly recent American history. Wiley and Frank are old enough to have distant but clear memories of the 50s decade and Rob is old enough to remember the latter part but will be channeling his older sister for the early years. In our opening session, everyone in the class will be asked to locate him or herself in or around the 1950s and, if possible, to share one or two memories.
