Mission of the Month

Campaign Against Human Trafficking (CAHT)

The Campaign Against Human Trafficking – Southshore (CAHT) has been active in the south shore since 2009. Throughout the years, The United Methodist Church of Sun City Center has been an active supporter and partner in our efforts to end human trafficking.

Here in the south shore of Hillsborough County we have challenges with both labor and sex trafficking. Our County Sheriff's office and the Hillsborough County Human Trafficking Task Force work hard to identify and eliminate the threats to our community.

CAHT continues with our commitment to supporting victims, celebrating survivors, reducing demand, and ending human trafficking.

This year we have several goals:

- Continue to support our victims and survivors with the rescue backpack and mentoring programs
- Recruit volunteers to support our programs
- Expand our Trafficking Free Zone community awareness program
- Begin outreach to men's organizations
- Begin a Survivor Scholarship fund to assist survivors as they complete their program and begin their new life
- Explore the possibility of creating the first safe home/shelter program for human trafficking victims in this area

We invite you to join our organization and support the cause of eliminating human trafficking.

Thanks so much to all of you for supporting our efforts over the years. With God's Blessings, we look forward to a continuing partnership.

Faith in the Future

Not long after transferring my membership from Indiana to the Florida Annual Conference, I was given a small book and encouraged to explore something called Fresh Expressions (FX). Fresh Expressions of church... Fresh Expressions of ministry... Fresh Expressions of discipleship.

When I attended my first FX conference in the Spring of 2023, I learned that Fresh Expressions facilitators refer to themselves as “practitioners” and describe their expressions as: “A movement within the United Methodist Church that seeks to cultivate contextual church plants in an increasingly diverse and post-Christian context.”

If that sounds confusing to you, you're not alone. I spent the better part of two days at that conference trying to wrap my brain around what I was hearing and understand how practitioners distinguish their fresh expressions from traditional or contemporary expressions of Church. For instance, they repeatedly differentiated between their gatherings and what they described as “inherited church models”. Unlike inherited church models, their churches expressed themselves in coffee shops, tattoo parlors, libraries, and dog parks.

While I still struggle to fully comprehend the difference between Fresh Expressions and what I would argue is just strategic community outreach (even after reading the book and attending the conference), it seems like the FX movement is a response to traditional churches who are failing to make disciples and engage the culture on its own ground. And that is something I can't argue with.

Faith in the future may look very different from what most of us are accustomed to. With many churches struggling to make a significant impact in their communities, we must recognize the difficult season we are in. Never before has the world been so technologically connected, yet so ideologically fractured. Many studies today suggest that young and old alike are currently trudging through an age of loneliness and isolation that was unheard of in decades past. Small groups, faithful friendships, and contemplative connections are needed now more than ever!

So, as we faithfully step forward into the future, let us consider how we are engaging the people we meet at the market. How are we praying for people whose paths we cross in the coffee shop and supporting the friends we find on the fringe of our community. In the new year let's do something new and increase our efforts to cultivate new relationships with new people and direct our energies towards those who have yet to experience the life-giving Light that Christ offers.

Faith in the future depends on us!

Stewardship & Budget Update

Stewardship campaign by the numbers:

The results of our November stewardship campaign were incredibly positive. Thank you to all who pledged!

Total pledges to date: 282 households

Amount pledged: $1,110,000

Anticipated giving from unpledged households = $662,000

Additional income from other sources = $241,000

You may still make a pledge at www.lovethelight.org/pledge

Budget update:

The Finance committee presented for approval a balanced budget of $2,005,000 to the Administrative Council on December 9. The 2026 budget represents a 2% increase from 2025 expenses. You may ask for a copy of the 2026 budget in the church office.

Our 2025 budget year will end with a significant surplus yet we chose to remain conservative in our budgeting for 2026 in an effort to continue to replenish our reserves.

We are grateful for your generosity and support for this important work!

'Break Away' with Breakaway

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from Breakaway!! We spent the month getting ready for Christmas and enjoyed every minute of it! It started with getting our many trees decorated. In the LEC you can see the ornaments that we made this year. You are also able to purchase some from Breakaway Creations!

We made some delightful Christmas cookies and recorded ourselves one morning singing a few songs for Sights and Sounds. On a couple of other mornings, we decorated the glass wall in Creason with ourselves, bundled up in hats and scarves. If you stop by, you might even spot a staff member or two hanging up with us! In addition to our decorations, there are also some snazzy collaborative art projects on display.

One beautiful Monday brought us three visitors from UMC Lakeland who are interested in opening their own respite next year! As Pastor Pam is the one who started Breakaway during her time here, I can't think of a better person to lead this new venture! Since it was a beautiful day, we enjoyed Christmas caroling alongside a Snowman, and later that afternoon a dancing Gingerbread Man joined our festivities!

December only held six Breakaway days, and we were blessed to have live entertainment for five of them! Thank you ever so much Greg, Bob, Susan, Dave, Gary and The Orange Blossom Ukes! Because music tends to be one of the last memories retained by a person living with dementia, we end every day with music. If you're a musician please consider playing for us!

Santa was here! How could we have our celebrations without him? Our final day was spent visiting with Santa and receiving a stockings compliments of the Sun City Center Singles Club, who also donated a gift card for all our caregivers! Our friends had the opportunity to go "shopping" for their caregivers. This event is always a hit; our wonderful volunteers donate new, unused gifts for our friends to choose from, which are then wrapped up and sent home.

Exciting news for 2026, Breakaway is self-sustaining! As we will no longer receive a budget from the church, purchases from Breakaway Creations and your generous donations are going to be more important than ever. We humbly ask that you remember us during your times of giving.

Mission Corner - Food Pantry

"There are always going to be poor and needy people among you... Always be generous, open purse and hands."
Deuteronomy 15:11 (MSG)

Our mission is simple and heartfelt: to provide food and spiritual resources (prayer, counseling, continued relationships) to individuals and families who have acute needs, and support other entities to resolve food insecurity regardless of age, ethnicity, or marital status in our community. Through the generosity of our congregation providing financial donations and food items, in addition to grants, we are able to provide food with dignity, love, and compassion to all our neighbors in need.

Over the years, our pantry provided emergency food bags, and with the rising grocery prices and uncertainty around federal and state benefits such as SNAP and WIC, our pantry felt called to do more. Since September, the pantry has been open twice a week, allowing individuals and families to visit and shop for the food they need. Over these past six weeks, we have averaged 27 visitors per pantry day, serving about 122 family members daily, in addition to serving 287 in our senior community. While most may think we only serve neighbors from Sun City Center and Kings Point, we also serve our neighbors in Wimauma, Ruskin, and Apollo Beach, bringing a wide range of food needs.

In the New Year, our vision will allow us to reach beyond food alone. Our newly established vision statement focuses on being available for our community, not only providing food, but also spiritual nourishment through intentional interaction. In doing so, we, and those we serve may experience the love of Jesus and be empowered to change their lives.

As part of our spiritual nourishment, we will offer prayer and spiritual support to those who desire it—welcoming neighbors not only for physical nourishment, but inspiration, encouragement, and the reminder of how Jesus feeds us with love and grace. Starting in January, we are providing Upper Room devotion booklets in Spanish to help us reach our Hispanic brothers and sisters in need. We are currently seeking volunteers who speak Spanish so they can connect and support our Hispanic brothers and sisters through prayer.

As always, we need your support in keeping our pantry flourishing with what our community needs to meet their basic day-to-day needs. Below is a list of items that are needed on a weekly basis in order for us to meet the needs of our clients:

- Maseca (corn) flour – 2-lb bags preferred
- Vegetable oil
- Boxed cereal
- Pancake mix and Pancake syrup
- Pasta (any kind including gluten-free)
- Pasta sauce (including low-sodium and no added salt)
- White rice – 1–3 lb bags
- Dried black beans – 1–2 lb bags
- Canned fruit (including low sugar/sugar-free)

Stay tuned for new ways to serve, because WE believe in feeding families and feeding souls, and you are invited to help us with this wonderful and necessary mission. For more information regarding how you can help the food pantry, contact Sylvia Pomrenke, our Local, State, National Mission Coordinator via email: sylviapomrenke@hotmail.com.

"Let's not just talk about love; let's practice real love." 1John 3:18 (MSG)

Vivacious Ministries with Victoria Sorensen

“January is the month to set the tone for the year—planting seeds now and trusting they will bloom in unexpected ways.”

A new year brings another opportunity to make a difference in our community. Over the past month, I have found myself planting and watering new seeds as we continue serving our neighbors—children, youth, young adults, and seniors. Last year, together we made a wonderful impact through our food pantry, clothing and hygiene support for local schools, school supplies, medical screenings, fellowship opportunities, and so much more. Each of you played a role, whether through food drives, the Joy of Giving, or supporting our sister churches in Cuba and India, along with our many other ministries. Lives were changed because of what we accomplished together.

While we were busy serving, I was also building new relationships and rekindling existing ones, looking for ways we could continue growing alongside our community. As I met with social workers in local schools, I kept hearing a growing concern: beyond food and clothing, many children need help mastering basic skills such as reading, reading comprehension, writing, and critical thinking. Without support, too many students are falling behind.

As I listened, I felt strongly that God was calling us to respond—but how and where to begin were not immediately clear. I prayed and researched, waiting for direction. Then one Thursday afternoon in December, a wonderful person came to speak with me. As we talked, it became clear that God had brought us together to answer each other's prayers. Together, we saw a path forward to help children in our elementary schools build the strong foundation they need for lifelong learning. It is amazing how God's plan unfolds right before our eyes.

You know that my newsletter often highlights what we've accomplished and ends with an invitation to volunteer based on your gifts. This time, I'm asking something a little different. I invite each of you to search your heart and consider helping with a new outreach ministry that will have a lasting impact on the lives of children in our community.

After months of listening and prayer, God has opened not just a window, but a door. We now have an opportunity to begin an in-school tutoring program to support children who entered school unprepared and continue to struggle. Many of these children did not have someone reading to them or engaging them in meaningful conversations during their early years. What they need most is a warm, caring adult who can walk alongside them, helping build academic skills, confidence, and the ability to express themselves.

I am grateful to be working with Jan Caruthers, a former educator with a heart for helping children succeed. Together, we are preparing to launch the first phase of this program from February through May 2026 in three local elementary schools—Reddick, Ruskin, and Wimauma—serving second-grade students. Jan is developing video lessons, tutoring guides, and resources to ensure volunteers are well prepared. Now, we need you and the gifts God has given you to help bring this ministry to life.

So here is my ask:

- If you want to make a difference in the life of a child who is struggling...
- If you have a passion for helping children become the best they can be and can give 30–60 minutes on a Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday...
- If you find joy in seeing a child smile when they succeed...
- If you remember a teacher or volunteer who made a difference in your life and want to pass that gift along...

I invite you to consider this volunteer opportunity.

No teaching or tutoring experience is required. We will provide all training and materials—you simply need a willing heart. If you are interested in learning more, please contact me at victoria@sccumc.com or stop by to talk with me. This is a meaningful way to invest in our next generation and help children grow into confident, successful adults.

Blessings to each of you in this New Year. May it be filled with love, kindness, and peace. As always, I am so grateful to work alongside each of you in ministry and mission work. Together, we continue to make an impact on the lives of those in our community by giving of ourselves, sharing the love of Jesus, and letting the Light change Everything!

Victoria

WORSHIP ARTS - Jeff Jordan

Have you ever heard any of these aphorisms?

"Fear of the unknown is the greatest fear of all." (Yvon Chouinard)

"Slowness to change usually means fear of the new." (Philip Crosby)

"We do not have a fear of the unknown. What we fear is giving up the known." (Anthony de Mello)

"Better the devil you know than the devil you don't." (A common proverb)

"If it ain't broke, don't fix it" (Another common proverb with poor language!)

I'm sure you have, and they all have to do with our reticence to embrace the new, to replace the old, in short, they all express our seemingly collective fear of CHANGE. Perhaps I've been fooling myself, but I've always said that I LOVE change; I love new ideas, new places, new people, new experiences, new (fill in the blank here). I'm probably not really as open to change as I profess to be, but I do know that change is inevitable and that 'new', even though it may not always be better than 'old', is inevitable.

I think it goes without saying that it's important to vet new things as we encounter them. So, how do we discern if the 'new' is better than the 'old'? I believe, and you probably do too, that we need to turn to God AND to one another. We turn to Him through scripture, prayer, meditation – through our regular spiritual disciplines, and we turn to one another most intimately through worship, collective study, and even through and during social events with other believers. With that in mind, I encourage you to be more vigorous in your spiritual disciplines, especially in those that bring you closer to God and seem to give you a sense of where and how He's guiding you. And I also encourage you to participate in one or more of the spiritual growth opportunities offered at our church, from prayer and Wesley groups to book and Bible studies. Finally, try to find the time to volunteer for one or more of our many ministries. Now you know I'm not pushing one in particular [MUSIC?!?]. I guess that was somewhat more than a 'subliminal' message, but please know that we are always looking for new singers, ringers, instrumentalists and actors. Please consider sharing your talents with your church family and our community by joining our Music Ministry in the coming year!

I, for one, am looking forward excitedly to the NEW year ahead of us. Blessings, my dear friends!

Thank God It's Variety! - Larry Hirschak

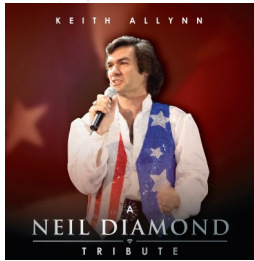

Another year has quickly gone by and I would like to thank everyone who attended and supported the 2025 concert series. As we begin the 2026 year, we have a great January line up of concerts!

Beginning on Friday, January 9th, Sinatra and Streisand's "The Concert That Never Was" returns by popular demand. Barbra Streisand and Frank Sinatra are two of the most iconic performers of our time. Sharon Owens and Robbie Howard take the stage as Barbra Streisand and Frank Sinatra in this tribute to the vocal powerhouses who gave us the iconic hits such as "People", "My Way", "The Way We Were", "New York New York", and so many more. These two legends never shared the same stage until now.

Today, Sharon Owens and Robbie Howard captivate audiences world-wide with their originally self-produced Las Vegas show that brings laughter, tears and joy to every person watching. Robbie's crooning sounds of Sinatra bring "memories" to an audience who remember the late great "ol' blue eyes" himself. While the uncanny looks of Sharon bring out the Funny Girl herself, Streisand does it the only way she knows how... Her Way.

The following week, on Friday, January 16th, Keith Allyn will be returning once again to present his very popular Neil Diamond Tribute. Experience the feel of Neil as Allyn unveils the story of Diamond's life through songs from the '60s to today.

Allyn began his career in stand-up comedy at the age of 14 opening for such greats as Chris Rock, Tim Allen and Robin Williams. At 21, he discovered his musical talents while performing "All Shook Up" at a karaoke night. For several years he continued to perform as an Elvis tribute artist and was voted a top 10 Elvis, by Graceland, in 2004. While trying to impress a girl who was a huge Neil Diamond fan, he called her on the phone and in his best Neil voice sang "Hello Again" from the Jazz Singer. It became their song, she became his wife, and he became The Diamond Image.

Then on Friday, January 23rd, a returning group, Sunday Drive will be presenting a concert titled "Yesterday Once More". Sunday Drive is a multiple Dove Award nominated group from Knoxville, TN, composed of Jeff Treece and his wife, Misty, and brother, Dusty. The group is known for their smooth harmonies and Misty's rich, Karen Carpenter-style vocals. They will be presenting a tribute to The Carpenters as well as other Golden Oldies and Classics and a few of their hit Gospel tunes. As always, there is a good bit of comedy included in every performance! Having garnered multiple Vocal Group and Entertainer of the Year honors, they have performed with artists such as the Gaithers, Ernie Haase & Signature Sound and the Oak Ridge Boys. Sunday Drive provides a veteran entertainment with a fresh and unique style.

The Boys of Oak Ridge will close out the month with their tribute to the Oak Ridge Boys. The Boys of Oak Ridge are not just a tribute band; they are a celebration of the sound and spirit that made the Oak Ridge Boys famous. With their tight harmonies and dynamic stage presence, they recreate the timeless classics that have touched the hearts of country music fans for generations. Audiences will be taken on a journey through beloved hits, blending humor, storytelling, and infectious energy that captures the essence of the original legends.

Another option that we are providing this winter season is a Season Ticket that can be purchased for $210.00 and includes 14 concerts for the period of January thru March. This is at a 20 percent discount to the regular advance ticket prices. If you enjoy a great variety of entertainment, please take advantage of this great offer.

And again, I would like to thank you for your great support of this very special and successful outreach ministry!! Remember "Let everything that has breath praise the Lord!!" Ps.150:6
